Katty Kay

The Confidence Code: The Science and Art of Self-Assurance—What Women Should Know

- Working women today are better educated and more well qualified than ever before. Yet men still predominate in the corporate world. Learn why Katty Kay believes the reason for this is confidence.
- Combining cutting-edge research in genetics, gender, behaviour, and cognition – with examples from their own lives and those of other successful women in politics, media, and business – Kay goes beyond admonishing women to “lean in.” Instead, she offers the inspiration and practical advice women need to close the gap to achieve the careers they want and deserve.
- Kay marshals evidence from employers large and small to show how possible it is to satisfy the demands of family and career.

HAYLEY WICKENHEISER

Four-time Olympic Gold Medalist of the Canadian Women's Hockey Team, Flag Bearer at the 2014 Olympic Games & Community Leader

Hayley Wickenheiser is regarded as the best female hockey player in the world. With an uncompromised determination and dedication to her sport, Hayley was twice named the most valuable player of the gold medal winning Canadian Women's Hockey Team; is a four-time Olympic gold medalist; and was selected as the Flag Bearer for the 2014 Winter Olympic Games. Not just an athlete, Hayley is also a community leader and an accomplished student and business woman who inspires audiences to give their best in everything they undertake.

Hayley has led the Canadian Women's squad to six gold medals and one silver medal at the Women's World Hockey Championships. As an Olympian, she earned a silver medal at the 1998 Winter Olympics and four Olympic gold medals in 2002, 2006, 2010, and 2014. Sports Illustrated named her one of the "Top 25 Toughest Athletes in the World", she is a two-time finalist for the Women's Sports Foundation Team Athlete of The Year, and was recently named among The Globe and Mail's "Power 50" influencers in sport. In 2011, she was appointed to the Order of Canada.

In 2003, Hayley made hockey history when she became the first female hockey player to notch a point in a men's professional game with the Kirkkonummen Salamat of the Finnish second division. She also played in Sweden with the men's professional division-one hockey team for the 2008-2009 season. Along with hockey, Hayley is an elite softball player. She participated in the 2000 Summer Olympics as a member of Team Canada and worked on the CBC's coverage of the 2008 Beijing Summer Olympics.

Hayley' also works with KidSport, Right To Play, Dreams Take Flight, Clean Air Champions, and Spread The Net.

"You rocked it. Feedback has been amazing as people in attendance were completely impressed by your stories and also commented about being inspired and motivated from hearing you speak. I even caught glimpses of a few tears in the room at certain points of your talk."

- Kevin Morihira, KPMG

KATTY KAY

Lead Anchor, BBC World News America & Bestselling Co-author of The Confidence Code & Womenomics

Katty Kay is the lead anchor for BBC's World News America where she covers the full gamut of American and global affairs – reporting on US elections, the White House, Congress, Wall Street, global economies, and world trouble spots. As a speaker, panel moderator, or interviewer, Kay's global perspective helps audiences cut through complex issues and see them in valuable context.

Kay's career with the BBC began in 1990, when she started filing radio reports for BBC World Service radio. Kay then went on to work as a BBC correspondent in London and Tokyo, reporting on stories including the Kobe earthquake and the Japanese economic recession. She joined The Times' Washington bureau before returning to the BBC in 2002. Kay is also a frequent guest commentator on NBC's Meet the Press, The Chris Matthews Show, MSNBC's Morning Joe, and others.

In The New York Times bestseller, Womenomics: Write Your Own Rules for Success, Kay and her co-author, Claire Shipman, explore how women can manage to create a professional life that meets their needs, resulting in more profitable companies with happier employees. Their new book, The Confidence Code: The Science and Art of Self-Assurance—What Women Should Know, offers the inspiration and practical advice women need to close the gender gap to achieve the careers they want and deserve.

“Womenomics makes a compelling statement about the financial impact women can have in the workplace and offers valuable ideas for capitalizing on this trend, even in this economic climate.”

ERICA ARIEL FOX

New York Times Bestselling Author of Winning From Within & Harvard Law School Negotiation Lecturer

Erica is a respected thought-leader, a senior advisor to Fortune 500 companies, a trusted public sector consultant, a Harvard Law School negotiation lecturer, a global citizen, an acclaimed author, and your guide to Winning from Within™.

Erica Ariel Fox is a long-time lecturer at Harvard Law School's Program on Negotiation (PON) and a founding partner at Mobius Executive Leadership. A highly sought-after advisor, Erica works with her partners at Mobius to develop the capabilities of top teams and emerging leaders around the world in both Fortune 500 companies and public sector organizations. She also serves as a Senior Advisor to McKinsey Leadership Development.

After nearly two decades of experience coaching senior executives and public sector change agents, Erica developed the seminal Winning from Within™ method, teaching people to negotiate effectively with themselves in order to better manage high stakes conversations and derive more from their personal and professional endeavors.

Erica's powerful Winning from Within™ method is now the subject of her first book, Winning from Within: A Breakthrough Method for Leading, Living, and Lasting Change. The book, a New York Times Bestseller, has been met with early critical acclaim for its long-overdue insights, grounded prose, and global relevance.

Today, when she isn't lecturing and consulting, Erica is frequently invited to share her methods and insights with both experienced and up-and-coming leaders via keynote presentations and workshops at conferences. A seasoned speaker, she brings a uniquely down-to-earth style with a generational vision and compelling voice to the conversation about leading wisely and living well.

A member of the Core Faculty for the American Institute of Mediation and a board member of the Harvard Mediation Program, Erica received her undergraduate degree from Princeton University and her law degree from Harvard Law School. She lives in Boston and Amsterdam and enjoys being a global citizen.

“Erica has the magical ability to meet people exactly where they are at any given moment. You simply have to experience her and the unforgettable energy she brings to the room.”

LIANE DAVEY

New York Times Bestselling Author of You First: Inspire Your Team to Grow Up, Get Along, and Get Stuff Done

Liane Davey combines her expertise in strategy with her deep insight into group dynamics to create powerful changes in top teams. As a Vice President of Knightsbridge Leadership Solutions and the Lead Team Effectiveness, she is sought out by executives at some of North America's leading financial services, consumer goods, high tech, and healthcare organizations.

She works to rehabilitate teams that have become toxic and with healthy teams that want to take their performance to the next level. To meet the needs of a broader audience, Liane has distilled her approach into Knightsbridge's highly successful Vital Teams™ and Team Inoculation™ programs. These programs allow organizations to certify internal resources to deliver the programs Liane designed.

A dynamic keynote speaker, Liane takes her message about vital teams to leaders at conferences and management retreats. In addition, she writes an ongoing blog on Team Effectiveness and is published in trade and academic journals. Liane's first book, Leadership Solutions co-authored with David Weiss and Vince Molinaro was released in Fall 2007. Her new book: YOU FIRST: Inspire

Your Team to Grow Up, Get Along, and Get Stuff Done was released in Fall 2013.

Liane has served on the executive of the Canadian Society for Industrial/Organizational Psychology and as an evaluator for the Psychologically Healthy Workplace Awards. She is currently a member of the Board of Trustees of the Psychology Foundation and is Chair of the Foundation's Diversity in Action project promoting mental health in immigrant communities. She holds a Ph.D. in Industrial/Organizational Psychology from the University of Waterloo. Liane is happily married with two young daughters.

Liane is a gifted communicator, who has the unique ability to help find the way forward in even the most complicated situations. She can analyze a problem, and situate it in a theoretical framework. What is most impressive though, is her ability to help find the right words to say. Her feedback prepares one to respond effectively in the moment, and also to expand one's ability to communicate in powerful and effective ways."

- Linda Mohri, Centre for Addiction and Mental Health

WENDY MESLEY

Award-Winning Broadcast Journalist

Wendy Mesley is one of Canada's most recognized and respected broadcast journalists. A provocative speaker who addresses the challenging issues of the day with an entertaining and informative presentation style, Mesley is also an outstanding moderator, master of ceremonies and on-stage interviewer.

Since becoming the CBC's first female correspondent assigned to cover a Prime Minister, Mesley has gained many years of first-hand insight and anecdotes about some of the most powerful and influential characters of our times.

Always a political junkie, Mesley also helped to create—and then hosted—CBC's Undercurrents, the ground breaking program examining how media, marketing, and technology were changing the world; and then became the co-host of CBC's Marketplace, the consumer advocacy program.

Currently at The National, Mesley anchors the program on Friday and Sunday nights and is the regular back up anchor for Peter Mansbridge.

She has won three Gemini awards for her work, as well as ACTRA's John Drainie award for her outstanding contribution to journalism.

Somebody has to ask the tough questions and in this country, that person is usually Wendy Mesley. The news fixture's quizzical nature and tenacious manner have always served her well."
